

Maggie Reilly, Talking To Myself

I hear voices in my head
Shut up!
But they keep on saying
You're the one who cries in bed
Shut up! Shut up!
While the Radio plays
Sad and lonely songs
You only hurtin' now
For the rules you made

I don't want to hear that now
Shut up!
I was almost healing
He's the proud one anyhow
Shut up! Shut up!
As he got no feelings
I can't sleep at night
I'm keeping watching him
Though I can't think why

It's a revelation
Talking to myself
What a conversation
Talking to myself

Who can tell you
How much is enough
When you lost the reason
Turning from the one
You long to touch
Like your heart is freezing
There's no chance
To find the answer
Nothing there's only
Echoes, echoes, echoes...

It's a revelation
Talking to myself
What a conversation
Talking to myself
I don't need translation
Me, I know what it means

Only me
No you and me
Only I know what I'm missing

Only me
No you and me
If only I had stopped to listen

Only me
No you and me
Only I know what I'm missing

Only me
No you and me
If only I had stopped

It's a revelation
Talking to myself

(Whatever anybody tells you...)

What a conversation
Talking to myself
I don't need translation
Talking to myself
It's a revelation
Talking to myself

(Will she ever listen?)
(I know what I means)
(Talking to myself...)
