

Maggie Reilly, The Deep Deep Sound

Hush now baby made a start
There's a jewel in your heart
And the star that shines for you
Watching everything you do

Don't you cry though it may seem
You were born in to a dream
There's another race to run
You were not the only one

Standing in the morning sun
Waiting though it had begun
May you never run aground
Or fall into the deep deep sound

Stormy weather turns to blue
Here's a song to take with you
