

Magic Knight Rayearth, Main Theme Season 2

I hold the light and the darkness of my heart
Trembling while I embrace the shadows moving me apart
I can't give up all the dreams that I have been chased
And my love will be there and it will come to me again with pride

When I look to the sunset
All the colours so beautiful
That the tears fall right down into the sea to the ocean of my heart

Through the brightness of the sun has drifted far away
Tomorrow holds
The sunlight of the brand new day for me (brand new day for me)

I hold the light and the darkness of my heart
Trembling while I embrace the shadows moving me apart
And I can't give up all the dreams that I have been chased
And my love will be there and will come to me

With each rising sun
I'll find the future that is mine
