

Magna-Fi, Drown

i need to hear your voice
to know you're there
i need to feel your arms around me to make me whole again and you won't have to worry that there's no one
you can trust

i want to drown
in everything you are
drown,
let me fall so far
everything you are

you left me kneeling, burning up inside overcome by complications everytme i tried in all this give there's take away just let me take it back

drown,

i need to break the silence to know that you still care when every nerve is screaming God don't let this be unfair

everything you are...
