

Magnitude 9, The End Of Days

End of days, still remains in question We're living in these times have we known it all along?
Could it be, that we never noticed what's right in front of our eyes
And all along we've hid within ourselves
Don't know what to do but I feel the fear myself and the emptyness surrounds me not revealed, but I know someday we'll be given all of the signs We've confused them all along Can't we feel, that the world is changing It's drifting from our lives
and all along we've hid within ourselves
don't know what to do I feel the fear myself

(solo: Keys/guitars)

We all are lost souls, our destiny remains
Our lives begin again, in the end of days

(solo: Keys)

Can't believe, that we never noticed, right before our eyes and al along we've hid within ourselves
don't know what to do but I feel the fear myself

We all are lost souls, our destiny remains
Our lives begin again, in the end of days
