

Magnum, After The Rain

Why don't you wait before you decide?
There's no need to run, let love be your guide

So stay, don't tell me you might
I need to believe you'll be here tonight
'Cause I'm here and I'll just be waiting, hoping, praying

After the rain there's a river of fire
You're lost on the road to nowhere
'Cause after the rain comes the thrill of desire
We turn around, no one's there

Deep inside everyone
There's something we need, the right to belong
But I'm here and I'll just be waiting, hoping, praying

After the rain there's a river of fire
You're lost on the road to nowhere
'Cause after the rain comes the thrill of desire
We turn around, no one's there

You tell me you're troubles and I'll tell you more
Bad times - you're the pretender
I'll tell you something that I can't ignore
Sad times - what's to remember?

After the rain there's a river of fire
You're lost on the road to nowhere
'Cause after the rain comes the thrill of desire
You turn around, no one's there
