

Magnum, Changes

With every word I hear, there's no sympathy
It was destroyed and swept away
It is replaced by something I can't see
To stay forever and always

We really should try and talk it out
Avoid the same mistake again
But I can see there will be no doubt
Looks like we have reached the end

I'm going through changes, so many changes
I'm losing my senses, don't know what to do
I'll go through my changes, faster than you

Is there no one who feels the same as me?

I'm going through changes, so many changes
I'm losing my senses, don't know what to do
I'll go through my changes, faster than you
