

Magnum, Heartbroke And Busted

What you going to do on your own?
Even wonder should you ever go home
Here come those feelings, can't be right
You think nobody's going to miss you tonight

Mistrusted, heartbroke and busted
So where's the justice...

Going to be all right when love comes around
No hurricane wind blowing could slow you down
You'll be all right when love comes around

You say that you've never known
The kind of love that gets down deep in your soul
You're still reeling from the fight
You wouldn't know it, if it hit you tonight

Mistrusted, heartbroke and busted
So where's the justice...

Going to be all right when love comes around
No hurricane wind blowing could slow you down
You'll be all right when love comes around

And I will never know the questions you're asking
I know nothing at all
How can you stand upon the judgement you're passing
When you don't even know the cause?

Mistrusted, heartbroke and busted
So where's the justice...

Going to be all right when love comes around
No hurricane wind blowing could slow you down
You'll be all right when love comes around
