

Magnum, I Will Decide Myself

Just for a moment, get yourself back into time
Did things seem better then, see what you can find
Those years you treasured like a jewel in midnight sky
You can't face tomorrow and you won't tell me why

I will decide myself - no chains on me
I will decide myself - I am set free

Once everything we knew has disappeared so fast
We used up all the things we thought would always last
No tears in heaven, that's the story you've been told
It can't last forever but I don't believe that's so

I will decide myself - no chains on me
I will decide myself - I am set free

Would you give up everything?
Give up everything, give up everything
Would you give up everything?
Give up everything, give up everything
For just another day

I will decide myself - no chains on me
I will decide myself - I am set free
