

Magnum, No Way Out

Its another long night, ain't no heart in this town without pity
There's not enough love, it's tough in this part of the city
Somebody cries, tonight we ride, we'll take you to the other side

Hear me mother, will day ever come?
Say a prayer for your wayward son
If I could, I would run
But there's no way out, no way out, no way out
Ain't we born to be free

On the far side of town with the rain falling down, she stands waiting
It don't seem right, she cries to the night, her heart breaking
She can hear his words, still see his face, it takes her to another place

Hear me father, just what will it take?
Give me an answer before it's too late
How to make an escape
Is there no way out, no way out, no way out
Ain't we born to be free
Ain't we born to be free
