

Magnum, You'll Never Sleep

Slow down before we both start crying
Yeah, yeah
There will be no denying
Just wait before the first starts flying
Yeah, yeah
You know we're all just dying
Slow down before we both start crying
Yeah, yeah
You know they'll all start lying

So for a hundred years there won't be a trace
You can't hide, not in this place
I never thought these things could happen today
Buries so deep, hidden away

But then the lighting flashed and the thunder it roared
Everyone said you've been here before
And as the door slammed shut, you're completely ignored
You'll never sleep, you'll sleep no more

I've walked and all the bells were ringing
Yeah, yeah
And all the lights were blinking
I walked with every step I'm thinking
Yeah, yeah
I heard the children singing

So for a hundred years there won't be a trace
You can't hide, not in this place
I never thought these things could happen today
Buries so deep, hidden away

But then the lighting flashed and the thunder it roared
Everyone said you've been here before
And as the door slammed shut, you're completely ignored
You'll never sleep, you'll sleep no more
