

Mainstay, Down Silver Lake

Is anyone awake? Anyone at all?
Siren song is calling me, it's getting louder now
Compromise is here
I know it's all a lie
I need to hear the melody of Your tune

So take me home but keep me feeling lonely when everyone is around You're trying to show me how to hear Your song down here by the water
Far away from the lights I see that I can't live two lives

Everywhere I go I carry with me
This ceiling that divides us
It's coming in between
When conversation turns into a monologue
I need to just be silent here and listen for Your tune

Night time lends its ear to the sound of my disappointment
When the ideal fades I don't want to complain
I just want to hear You sing
