

Mainstay, Overnight On Nicollet

Must have been that winter cold
That made me set out on my own
I said my goodbyes and left You behind
Growing up is getting old

Bring back the memories
bring back that smile because I've outgrown them
Now I remember but everything's changed
Still I'm captivated by that face You wear tonight

Must have been the April thaw
That made me hunger for Your arms

Overnights don't seem so cold

Bring back the memories
Bring back that smile because I've outgrown them
Now I remember but everything's changed
Still I'm captivated by that face You wear tonight
Familiar but it looks so new in streetlight - in this light
