

Maisie Peters, Run

Oh my, what happened here?
He came, he disappeared
He was too good to be true
Swore a lot of things, none of them new

Dropped words
Forgot 'em overnight
Good thing that I'll
Think about them up until I die

I've been lied to
I've been cut and deleted
I've heard some things
That I will leave unrepeated
I've seen some flags
But the reddest one is
If a man says that he
Wants you in his life forever, run!

If he calls you up, say he's so in love
And it's been one week you better, run!
If your heart says broke, and your friends say don't
It's an RIP you better, run!
As fast as you can, take a quick sharp turn
At the sight of the man and make it done
If a man says that he
Wants you in his life forever, run!

If he say he's real, he's not
If he makes you smile, he's blocked

I've been lied to
I've been cut and deleted
I've heard some things
That I will leave unrepeated
I've seen some flags
But the reddest one is
If a man says that he
Wants you in his life forever, run!

If he calls you up, say he's so in love
And it's been one week you better, run!
If your heart says broke, and your friends say don't
It's an RIP you better, run!
As fast as you can, take a quick sharp turn
At the sight of the man and make it done
If a man says that he
Wants you in his life forever, run!

You better, run!
You better, run!
You better, run!
You better

He likes a promise if he don't have to keep it
He hates a sentence when he has to mean it
I know it's dark and I know that I'm young
But if a man says that he wants you in his life forever, run!

(RIP) Run!
Run! As fast as you can, take a quick sharp turn
At the sight of the man and make it done
If a man says that he wants you in his life forever, run!