

Major Deluxe, Goodbye

Last night when you spoke I stared at your teeth
And each of your words reinforced my belief
That yours is the mouth most perfect for kissing
Your perfect embrace is what I've been missing
I'm dying each time for another embrace
To kiss once your mouth and to kiss once your face

R / My pincushion heart rests in your hands
R / I feel pleasure or pain all at your command

It's becoming more clear with all that I've written
That I can't deny it, I'm weak as a kitten
