

Major Organ And The Adding Machine, Francisco

A magic army came to set the children free one night..

As Madam Truffle lay asleep they crept into the sanctuary

One peculiar fellow led the army on that night

He went from bed to bed and with his sword he cut the cord that circled round each child's head

"You're free to go, you're free to go," he told each child one by one

"Hooray!" they said, "Hooray!"

And then they shouted out this song:

"Francisco! Francisco! You're truly an angel! We'll never forget this day"
