

Make Up Your Mind, What We Know

When all falls apart, where we've trusted on,
there is someone who stands solid above the chaos.
It is the Lord our God, the everlasting Rock,
the One where we build on, without falling off.

Look at mankind, living day by day,
Living without rules, following their own ways.
It seems there is no more hope for this world today,
Egoistic and unreliable, only You're here to stay.

This is what we know, that no matter what we do,
You will carry us through.
We can trust in you, You won't let us down,
You'll rescue us when we drown.

I want to follow your ways, but that aint easy to say,
Cause what people like to do is manipulate,
Control your mind and encourage hate,
Against different opinions and other peoples faith.
Though we make mistakes and it's hard to stand alone,
You'll lead us all the way, to our heavenly home.
We can come to you, anytime, anywhere,
You love us unconditionally, You do really care.

Surviving without You is impossible.
You're our God, our Rock, unbeatable,
Where would we be without You on our side.
No more darkness, You're the eternal light.
