

Making April, Runaway World

I've heard all the talk yeah this road's no good for you a line of bleeding hearts behind her throne and she flaunts them like she's claimed them as her own she's built her castle through the sky but there's a part of me she won't defy I've built my guard up just as high and she's breaking through this the wall's on fire here's my heart for you have you been rendered breathless will you fall off or will you follow and invade my runaway world I must be honest it hasn't been this way in years and I never thought I'd let this come they're telling me your love is faithless but this is the way out I'm finally feeling somewhat free and I'm afraid free and I'm afraid that she's... chorus we can catch this by the tail in time as the ship sets sail we're all in flight and we'll barrel past these stars tonight and they're slowing down they're slowing down I can barely see the flames as we're slowing down can you ask this world to wait around just one more round yeah she's... chorus my runawaaaay yeah eah whoa ohhh my runawaaaay my runaway let this carry on just get me through these nights and days of this world oh will you follow and invade my runaway world would you watch me fade away or be my getaway in this runaway world
