

Making April, Stay The Night

you're willing to wait on me sometimes but you might have been misled so i wouldn't hold my breath cause i've been around this country twice and if i don't choose to stay then you'll never breath again i don't wanna say this but i don't feel your pain you want me to fake it
oh no no no
your dying to save us
but darling we can't shake the coming of all these things i wanted more then you cause i've been fine (since the break) and now your fine (telling me) that you might not be okay but i guessed that anyway so i'll come by and you'll exaggerate good times but i won't stay, stay the night you're trading away you're vows for the most unhealthy dates With my passing appetite it's only a matter of my time but just what you do best a friendly gesture with your love attached
you want me to fake it
oh no no no
but darling we can't shake the coming of all these things
that you might not be okay but i guessed that anyway
so i'll come by and you'll exaggerate good times
