

Maliah, That's Why I Love You

dark thoughts always in my mind but everytime i think of you sunshine i find you are the center of my heart and you hold the key i just can't get over the way you love me

you never ever make me cry you never ever tell me lies you only try to make me smile try to make this love worthwhile you've proven to me you're true and that's why i love you days have gone by that i've cried myself to sleep and when we fight i cannot eat you've helped me learn and grow and to find myself you love me like i've been loved by no one else

i cannot believe you were right here all this time but i guess they are right true love is hard to find the day i fell for you was the happiest day of my life to be completely honest you probably saved my life you make me who i am and i am glad you are my man
