

Marc Bolan, Cry Baby

Kissed you in the show, you ran and told your mama
You're a cry baby
In the hall against the wall, you made it all so clear
You're a cry baby
Your love was like a summer in my heart
And then you lied baby
Clouds of doubt messin' up my sky
You're such a cry baby

Ooh, since you let me down, even though I joke around
You know I'm sad baby

I'm a queen without a throne
All alone and almost grown
Don't need no sly baby

Your love was like a summer in my heart
And then you lied baby
Clouds of doubt messin' up my sky
You're such a cry baby

Balled you in the show, you ran and told your mama
You're a cry baby
In the hall against the wall, you made it all so clear

You're such a cry baby, wo-oo
You're such a cry baby, wo-oo

[Repeat till fade...]
