

Maria Mena, Those Who Caved In

I wouldn't let them hurt you, I wouldn't let them scream you'd listen to my stories, and got back to your dreams Stayed down on first floor layed low with me
I saw your pieces so magically
And how is everything in the real world, is anybody left there sane?
think its time for you to join the minority again Cause they won't say they're sorry they won't know you're there they won't sacrifice anything to have you near they won't realize you're gone before it's too late And painful is the ways of those who caved in and you're too great
I understood you, I got your ways You cried your heart out, and I held your face And tell me if you're ever feeling down I'll open up and turn this world around you're no one if you're just another one, of them..
