

Maria Taylor, Hitched!

Once upon a time in a place
Far, far away from here
Long, long ago, the eyes
Drift past a story lights
And dream of a love that made you feel more alive
Worth any compromise
A love that will always keep you surprised
And prove to be worth a fight

No more days too long
Pretty love songs
You're home as you travel along
This lane, so no (?)
And when you came in to say what your face already told

Said you found her anew
Would make her your bride
Stand by her till you die
Your tender eyes, they'll glisten with pride
Your smile so satisfied
