

Maria, You, Me And She

Seems like lately, you're far away
Even when you're sitting near
Drives me crazy, that you don't seem to care
Feels so lonely, I know that something's wrong
I can tell with just a touch
I'm not the only one that you're thinking of

Why do you say that you're mine, when its plain to see
Your past ain't too far behind and now it's catching up with me

Didn't know every time that you said "we"
You knew she was still around
Boy, I thought it was only you and me
Cant you see that three's a crowd
Didn't know when you said we'd always be
You were really thinking 'bout
We'd always be, you and me and she
Can't you see that three's a crowd

Left unspoken, that when you gave your heart
I wouldn't have to share, now mine's broken
You know that's unfair when you were so blessed
I have you everything, my heart, my soul, my time
Wish I would've known this, was all built on lies

That's why I've got to let you go, if you can't choose then, baby, I'll have to Tell you how it's gonna be, now when you think of me
It can't be as part of we
