

Mariah Carey, Faded

It was over cause that day
And I was feeling some kind of way
I pulled the covers up over my head
Tried reaching for you but that was then
I can't forget
My heart sunk over but ain't nothing different
I closed my eyes nothing but faded pictured of you, Of you

Faded, baby, you're faded
Baby, you're faded, faded

You go, you go, you just hit rock
Whisper in my ear, but in the morning you're not here
So intentional, just like an echo
Still not pretending, it's possible
To bring us back to life
Boy we continue to subside
Hanging over like on this rollescoaster ride
I know your name sub consciously
Always somewhere, but you're not there for me
Boy you, boy you, faded, baby, you're faded
Baby you're faded, faded
Boy you just tell me and you go
And you go, you just hit rock, just an echo
Whisper in my ear, but in the morning you're not here
So intentional, just like an echo
Faded,
Always somewhere, but you're not there for me
Not there for me, not there for me
Always somewhere, but you're not there for me
Not there for me, not there for me
