

Marie Mena, Nevermind Me

what is the game we're playing? should i stick around for more? snap your fingers i'll coming running leave again when you're bored with me
i'll make it easy
nevermind me, nevermind me i'll just cast shadows on your walls
my god i feel so small
i'll just cast shadows on your walls
i'll just let myself out.
this facade that i'm stuck with has got me wondering just tell me how you want me and i'll be naked stumbling just to get a reaction, any signs of love
i'll just cast shadows on your walls
i'll just let myself out.
bottle up your smile
pour it in a cup
i'll be on my way
once i've sobered up
