

MARINA, Venus Fly Trap

Whatever you give life you will get back
Why be a wallflower when you can be a Venus fly trap?

I never quite fit in
To that Hollywood thing
I didn't play the game
For the money or the fame

I did it my way, baby
Nothing in this world could change me

Don't underestimate me
Cause one day you're gonna see
You're on a losing battle
Baby, you will never stop me being me
I got the beauty, got the brains
Got the power, hold the reins
I should be motherfucking crazy
Nothing in this world could change me

I sacrificed it all for a life to call mine
All the love and security
To be myself, oh I
I know that money ain't important
And it don't mean you're the best
But I earned it all myself
And I am a millionairess

I did it my way, baby
Nothing in this world could change me

Don't underestimate me
Cause one day you're gonna see
You're on a losing battle
Baby, you will never stop me being me
I got the beauty, got the brains
Got the power, hold the reins
I should be motherfucking crazy
Nothing in this world could change me

They'll shame you
Blame you
Pretend to even hate you
Take away your rights
Pacify you with their lies
You are gonna get back
Why be a wallflower when you can be a Venus fly trap?

Don't underestimate me
Cause one day you're gonna see
You're on a losing battle
Baby, you will never stop me being me
I got the beauty, got the brains
Got the power, hold the reins
I should be motherfucking crazy
Nothing in this world could change me

Nothing in this world blooms
Nothing in this world could change me
