Marion Raven, Surfin' The Sun

Longing to finally reach the shore I know it's coming, count to four I've never felt like this before I let the thunder brake me I feel the swell of this dark sea

This dark sea The tide will take me Will you save me

[Chorus :]
Surfing the sun
All night long
Here where the day will not decay
Surfing the sun
This is the one
Take the wave and ride away

Moments like these define me
The salt of my skin reminds me
The touch of your lips
And I know that you and I will always be

Always be The time will take me Will you save me

[Chorus]
Surfing the sun
All night long
Take these rays and hide away

Won't you meet me here On the north side of the sky Won't you meet me where All our hidden hopes will lie

Won't you meet me here And we'll climb this mountain high Won't you meet me where We once saw the raven fly

[Chorus 2X]
