

Marit Larsen, Poison Passion

You give me this and leave me alone here
Do you presume the battle's won?
I'll keep my head above the water
'til you admit the damage's done

[Chorus]

Dry shimmer dazzle afternoon
Your poison passion came too soon
You waste what you think you own
You cry when you're still alone
I will not let you go destroy this
I won't allow a broken promise
You give me this and leave me wondering
Am I supposed to put my faith in

[Chorus]

Cry when you're still alone
You cry when you're still alone
