

Mark King, Swimming With Sky

Hey baby you don't need to let yourself go, no
It won't seem so bad tomorrow
That cloud coil in the sky (??)
is swimming through your eyes
With the tears you never shed
Hey baby, won't you please let me inside your head?
Love you lose you cry and it cracks you dull face
You lose your dream

In your lonely far eyes
Swimming with the sky
Lonely in your far eyes
Swimming with the sky

Hey baby realize you hate your new dress, oh yeah
Babe I don't like to see you in such distress
You say you're in control
But baby, where's the smile
Laughter's all gone away
Got scream very deep and it's breaking your mind?
I see you lose it

In your lonely far eyes
Swimming with the sky
Lonely in your far eyes
Swimming with the sky

In your lonely far eyes (in your lonely eyes)
Swimming with the sky (I see a dream)
Lonely in your far eyes
Swimming with the sky
