

Mark Knopfler, Good On You Son flash goes a little hummingbird a dart worried thread and scream door by his lemon tree out here with the quick and the death designer blinds all over the L.A. frame the perfect view it's gonna be by another day of Sun and shameless blue but his cutting block when the time has come for the fruit

there be the juicer juice and grains fresh coffee for himself his's beaten our producer L.A. Times lies on the stone warming there like bread hay what's not like

good on you son
good on you
The Camden shuffle and the old one, two
good on you, aha

you want to know what happiness this is in his eyes is a hunter's gleam something to look forward to their cat's gonna get the cream skin of a mango is so smooth it's smoother than the devil cut it, slice it chop it up to the rhythm of a cockney rebel
