

Mark Medlock, Why The Kiss

Take me like you want it, it's OK for me
If you really love me, you're my destiny
Will somebody ever look at me that way
Meet me in my dreams, baby night and day
Baby if you love him, I will step aside
Baby oh don't hurt me, there's no way to hide
Will you separate, only to return
Baby oh I love you, my heart will always burn
Oh baby why
Why does this kiss mean goodbye
Why don't you give it a try
Just for me and for you
Oh baby why
Why does this kiss mean goodbye
Oh why you're telling me lies
It's unfair to my heart
Everytime you touch me, it's a big surprise
Everytime you hold me, it's like fire on ice
Round and round a circle, that's the way we'll go
Amor este und dia, and the time will show
I will really love you till the day I die
There will be so many tears, the tears that I cry
The colors of my dreams are red and sometimes blue
Baby oh I love, I will always do
