

Mark Schultz, Back In His Arms Again

I see it in your eyes
the pain you keep inside
It's slowly tearing you apart though you've run away
Reminded day by day
You've stumbled and you've fallen
Still He's callin'

Chorus:

I believe that he loves you where you are
I believe that you've seen the hands of God
I believe that you'll know it when You're back in His arms again
I believe that He never let you go
I believe that He's wanting you to know
I believe that He'll lead you 'til
You're back in his arms again.

Glad I found you here
'Cause in between the tears
Something in your eyes shows hope
And I stand before you now
As one that knows about
Coming to Him open
And broken

Chorus

And I know that He's calling
He's calling you Home

Chorus

One Life, one love, one way, Home
And when you rise and when you fall
He will see you through it all
He is waiting you are called, back in His arms again
