

Marmalade, Just One Woman

Well I should be going home now, but she wanted me to stay,
I whisper to her softly and she don't know what to say.

Cause she worries so about me, and she calls me everyday,
My love she always listens to things I have to say.

Chorus.

Well I don't want no fancy woman. I don't need no fancy woman,
All I want is just one woman in my life.

You should see her in the morning, with her eyes as black as coal,
She's got a lot of soul, and never will grow old.

She's a reason, she's a river and she really is for me,
I know she's got to be for no one else.

Chorus.

Oh a friend is made for loving, a friend is made to stay,
And I've got a friend who'll never walk away.

Well I think about her always, and she thinks about me too,
And I know without her I couldn't see it through.

Chorus.
