

Marque, You used to

Fly, babe, fly, fly
You used to spell happiness
You don't do it anymore
You used to come home and fall a sleep
But you don't want no more
There used to be a rainbow where you standing now
Not there anymore
There used to be a tree so green and pure
Not there anymore
There used to be love love love!
Not there anymore
There used to be a kiss kiss!
Not there anymore
You used to speak so loud
And now you whisper
You used to scream and shout
My little sister - my little sister
You used to spell happiness
You don't do it anymore
You used to come home and fall a sleep
But you don't want no more
You used to spell happiness
You don't do it anymore
You used to come home and fall a sleep
But you don't want no more
You used to hide your tears
Not there anymore
You used to find some ears
You don't want to speak anymore
You used to hide your tears
Not there anymore
You used to find some ears
You don't want to speak anymore
You used to spell happiness
You don't do it anymore
You used to come home and fall asleep
But you don't want no more
You used to spell happiness
You don't do it anymore
You used to come home and fall a sleep
But you don't want no more
You used to be so many things
But you're no child anymore
No child anymore
Cause you grow up
Try to find your place in life
You're no child anymore, anymore
Cause you grow up, you grow up, you grow up, you grow up
Older and older
Stronger and stronger
You'll be stronger and stronger
Sometimes life hurts
And brings you down
But you will stand up
And try to find your way
You'll be stronger and stronger
Stronger and stronger