

Marques Houston, Why

Summertime, you and I were nothing sure but inseparable.
And nothing can come between us, oh no.
People say all the time that I was much too young to know.
But I think it could of been love, oh no.
Ooh, oh when the summer went away, for some reason, so did you.
You took my heart when you left, oh no.
It took a minute to get over but I finally did.
Said then look who pops back up, out of the blue.
To take the heart from my chest, again.
I wanna know why, why.
Why can't I get this heartbreak off me.
I said it just won't end, oh no.
I wanna know why, why.
I was over you but this heartbreak caught me.
And it start all over again (Yeah)
I reminisce on thoughts I had and thoughts of love for quite some time.
And memories of you, I put to sleep (Oh no)
And now I gotta watch you hand in hand with someone else.
Acting like you never knew me. It took a minute to get over but I finally did.
Said then look who pops back up, out of the blue.
To take the heart from my chest, again.
I wanna know why, why.
Why can't I get this heartbreak off me.
I said it just won't end, oh no.
I wanna know why, why.
I was over you but this heartbreak caught me.
And it start all over again
And I wish that you could tell me what I did wrong.
To make you turn away and never look back.
How could you close the book on us.
Pretend like it never was, tell me how.
How could you do me like that, baby.
How could you, baby tell me why.
I wanna know why, why.
Why can't I get this heartbreak off me.
I said it just won't end, oh no.
I wanna know why, why.
I was over you but this heartbreak caught me.
And it start all over again (Yeah)
