

Marti Pellow, Did You Ever Wake Up

Do you ever wake up thinking
&quot;All in life is well&quot;;
Do you ever wake up dreaming?
And then you fell
Do you ever need for sweeter
All in life is fine
Aid you ever wake up shaking, shaking
Wake me up and make me smile
What I need to know makes it all worthwhile
Climb on this cloud and ride away
Feet on the ground - just for today
Come on up from down so you can say
Did you ever wake up, wake up
And wish me away?
Do you ever wake up sleeping?
Walking down the street
Do you ever wake up leaving?
Did you ever leave?
Did you ever need survival?
All in life you fear
Did you ever wake up reeling, reeling?
Wake me up and make me smile
What I need to know makes it all worthwhile
Climb on this cloud and ride away
Feet on the ground - just for today
Come on up from down so you can say
Did you ever wake up, wake up
And wish me away?
You slipped between the covers of my open book
Your silence only smothers that lonely look
Every time I asked you, you misunderstood
Climb on this cloud and ride away
Feet on the ground - just for today
Climb on this cloud and ride away
Feet on the ground - just for today
Come on up from down so you can say
Did you ever wake up, wake up
Climb on this cloud and ride away
Feet on the ground - just for today
Come on up from down so you can say
Did you ever wake up, wake up - and wish me away?
Did you ever wish me away?
Did you ever wish me away?
Did you ever wish me away?
Did you ever wish me away?
