

Martin Englert, Believe In Yourself

Sometimes you're empty inside
Now believe to make it better
Just forgotten every time
When you're sad but doesn't matter
Never think it's not fair
When you try but nothing happens
Sometimes you just have to wait
Before some things will get better

Are you lonely? Please believe in yourself!
Doesn't matter what people might say
Are you lonely? Please believe in yourself!
Doesn't matter what people might say...

Yeah, I know it's hard to drive
With the lights out in bad weather
Things go wrong and you feel tired
Nothing goes your way but never
Never think it is not fair
When you try and nothing happens
Sometimes you just have to wait
Before You touch your dreams forever

Are you lonely? Please, believe in yourself!
Doesn't matter what people might say
Are you lonely? Please believe in yourself!
Doesn't matter what people might say

Are you lonely? Please, believe in yourself!
Doesn't matter what people might say
Are you lonely? Please believe in yourself!
Doesn't matter what people might say
