

Martin Englert, We Just Need New Stars

One day the dark will take the light to fade our town

The world we know will fall the skyline will be gone

Now, we play with the physics, there's no limits, We just need new stars!

Light can solve our immersion, our inception goes
above the sky

There's no time to fight each other
All we need is finding home

Before we'll leave our world!

No one deserves to die deserves to die alone

But there's not enough space to take the everyone

Now, we play with the physics, there's
no limits, We
just need new stars!

Light can solve our immersion, our
inception goes
above the sky

There's no time to fight each other
All we need is finding home

Before we'll leave our world!