

Martin Garrix, Drown (feat. Clinton Kane)

I've been trying to keep my distance but In an instant
you break me down

I know better than to want you but I succumb to you without a doubt now the water is rising and I'm too tired to swim

and my lungs
just can't take it
but I keep breathing you in
so

tell ne lies
tell me painted truths
anything at all
to keep me close to you pull me under the way you do tonight I wanna drown in an ocean of you anything to keep me close to you

I'm so used to your excuses that when you bruise me I stick around

no point trying to make it our now rather be sinkng then go without!

and now the water is rising
