

Martin Jondo, You

You well this goes out to mama nature the fruitful soul and heart of I and I keep her in and around and no one every really dies you make me feel like wanna go home you are my precious queen so please touch my heart if I am falling worry bout my soul if you see me crying encourage me to spread my wings to heaven and fly away cause you are the one which I am loving you are the path on which I am trodding you are the everburning light and might in my life so I cant make a move without your love no never wanna make a move without you wanna wanna keep you deep so deep inside so I never never let go never ever let you go no never ever let you out of mine so you make me feel like I wanna go home so you make me feel like I got to get home
