

Martin Roth & Bartlett Bros, Losing Gravity

There`s another world where all things are motionless if you want to see the sense come now as you are Shut your eyes to see Shut your mouth and talk to me Keep your ears closed to hear me call There`s another place disconnected from real life.
If you lose your way you can come now as you are Lay your body down
Let your mind explore the dark Keep your fear close to what you are Across the other side the sound of silence.
losing gravity
the speed of light is still in every grain of sand
the world`s connected spinning in the air
and crossing everywhere
I`m losing gravity
