

Marty Robbins, I'm Beginning To Forget You

(I think that I'm beginning to forget)

I think that I'm beginning to forget you
And I do it because I cried with all my might
I think that I'm beginning to forget you
'Cause I only cried a little bit last night.

I think that I'm beginning to forget you
I think, or maybe it just seems that way
I think that I'm beginning to forget you
'Cause I only read your letters once today.

Lately I hardly think about you
Unless I'm by myself or with a friend
I think that I'm beginning to forget you
'Cause I only kiss your picture now and then.

(I think that I'm beginning to forget)

Lately I hardly think about you
Unless I'm by myself or with a friend
I think that I'm beginning to forget you
'Cause I only kiss your picture now and then.
