

Marty Robbins, Oh How I Miss You

Oh how I miss you since you went away
Oh how I need you more every day
I'll be so happy when you're back to stay
Oh how I miss you since you sent away

I lost my sunshine the day you went away
All of my blue skies have turned into gray
I'm so heartbroken is all I can say

Oh how I miss you since you went away

I miss your blue eyes, your sweet smiling face
No one on earth dear, can ever take your place
Don't think I'm fooling when you hear me say
Oh how I miss you since you went away
