

Marty Robbins, Sea And Me

The sea and me keeps lonely company
The tides have come and gone just like your love for me
The tradewinds say that you'll come back someday
I think there's solitude they held take you away

Gone are the moments on dark sandy beaches
Where we get our secret rendezvous
The breakers play on coral sands that say
We'll bring her home again the wind the sea and me
[steel]
Gone are the moments...
