

Marty Robbins, Since You Went Away

Oh how I miss you since you went away
Oh how I need you more every day
I'll be so happy when you're back to stay
Oh how I miss you since you went away

I lost my sunshine the day you went away
All of my blue skies have turned into gray
I'm so heartbroken here's all I can say
Oh how I miss you since you went away

I miss your blue eyes, your sweet smilin' face
No one on earth, dear, can ever take your place
Don't think I'm foolin' when you hear me say
Oh how I miss you since you went away
