

Marty Robbins, Thanks But No Thanks Thanks To

You're askin' me if I'd like to come back again
When I know each time you never let me win
Before we start you break my heart in two
Well baby thanks but no thanks thanks to you

You make your plans before we've ever started
You always end up leaving me alone and broken hearted
You offer me your love with no intentions to be true
Well baby thanks but no thanks thanks to you

[guitar]

You loved me so until somebody came along
Now it seems your plans with him have all gone wrong
Now you tell me we can start anew
But baby thanks but no thanks thanks to you

Ya make your plans before we've ever started...
Well baby thanks but no thanks thanks to you
