

Marty Robbins, Won't You Forgive

I know that I've took much more than I gave
But now I confess, what more can I do
What more can I say
I know we could live
If you would forgive

I'm so sorry, dear, for things I have done
But if you leave me now, then who'll be to blame
You'll be the one
It's all up to you
Please won't you forgive

You've so much to lose if you leave me
I still love ya so, please believe me

I've done all I can, I'm down on my knees
One little chance is all that I ask
I've even said, please
It's all up to you
Please won't you forgive
