

Marty Robbins, Wonderful World Of You

I've seen the earth from a big jet-liner
And I've crossed an ocean or two
I gambled and lost then stumbled across
The wonderful world of you

I found the wonderful world of you
Miracles happen and daydreams come true
Now that I'm here nothing else will do
The wonderful world of you

Well, I've been alone in a crowd of strangers
That was before I met you
Life was all wrong, I really belonged
In that wonderful world of you

I found the wonderful world of you
Miracles happen and daydreams come true
Now that I'm here nothing else will do
The wonderful world of you
Now that I'm here nothing else will do
The wonderful world of you
