

Matchbook Romance, What A Sight

what a sight never thought i'd find you here last i knew you disappeared we all get lost

i thought i had lost you amongst the mess in the cluttered things in my head but here you are

when you wake i'll be a thousand miles away from the promises i made and all i love

i'm a dreamer
with nothing left to dream trying to tear a hole in the seam of reality

don't ever forget me [x2]
i thought i lost you
thought i lost you

thought i lost you amongst the mess and the demons in my head

i would leave to return more lost than before a little more tired a little less sure of where i was the earth would move but we would stand in place hide in the shadows of the dead we're almost out of time yeah we're almost out of time

i thought i lost you
thought i lost you
[x2]
